

Protective Layer Removal

SM D1

There have been reports of keypads peeling on the SM D1

This is not a breakdown of the keypad. The peeling occurs when the protective plastic is not removed from the keypad at install. This plastic is used only to protect the keypad during shipping.

Note: If protective layer is kept on, film will wear off. It will look similar to figure below.

